

For Immediate Release

NISOD and IntelliBoard, Inc. Forge Partnership to Empower Community and Technical Colleges with Student Success and Compliance Analytics

New partnership provides NISOD member network exclusive access to cutting-edge analytics at a fraction of the cost

Austin, Texas and New Haven, Connecticut – October 1, 2025 – The National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development \(NISOD\), the premier provider of meaningful and affordable professional development resources for community and technical college educators, and IntelliBoard, Inc., the industry-leader in Learning Analytics solutions, announced a strategic partnership designed to empower NISOD member institutions with exclusive, discounted access to IntelliBoard’s advanced analytics platform, delivering actionable insights that support data informed decision making and drive student success.

As community and technical colleges navigate increasing accountability demands with constrained resources, this partnership ensures that educators and administrators have the tools they need to measure impact, optimize learning experiences, and improve institutional outcomes.

IntelliBoard helps institutions tackle some of today’s toughest challenges, such as Title IV compliance and date of first attendance tracking, dual enrollment oversight, veteran student support, and institutional grading health. Risk prediction models available from IntelliBoard empower faculty and advisors to act earlier and more effectively.

The new benefit for NISOD members is available starting October 1, 2025.

“Community and technical colleges are under pressure to balance compliance, retention, and student support. IntelliBoard partners with all 58 North Carolina community colleges and is expanding in Louisiana, and now through NISOD we can bring those same proven results to more institutions,” said Becky Keith, IntelliBoard CEO. “Every semester counts, and our mission is to give colleges the insights they need to act sooner and support every learner.”

NISOD and IntelliBoard, Inc. first worked together at the 2025 NISOD spring annual conference, where IntelliBoard demonstrated transforming data insights to academic success for Delgado Community College, a NISOD member. The new partnership will offer IntelliBoard several opportunities to present to NISOD members in the coming year.

“Our partnership with IntelliBoard underlines our commitment to introduce community and technical colleges to high-quality tools and services essential for improving student success,” said Kris Tolman, Interim Associate Director for NISOD. “We are in a position to understand the needs of colleges to gain valuable insights and are pleased to help them be more productive to that end.”

Next Step for NISOD Members:

To activate their IntelliBoard member discount and schedule a personalized demo, NISOD colleges should visit <https://intelliboard.net/get-a-demo/> or email helpdesk@intelliboard.net. Early adopters who secure access this fall will be the first to explore IntelliBoard’s new Deans Dashboards highlighting grading health and the newly released IntelliBoard Risk Score, designed to help colleges act sooner to support every learner.

About NISOD

The National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development \(NISOD\) empowers faculty, staff, and administrators at community and technical colleges to support the needs of diverse students in the face of ever-present resource constraints. High-quality, easy-to-access professional development resources connect staff and faculty with applicable knowledge to grow their careers and improve instruction. Meaningful recognition programs can augment the reputation of individual students, employees, and institutions. But perhaps most valuable are the connections NISOD helps build among community and technical colleges to share ideas, strengths, and solutions.

About IntelliBoard, Inc.

IntelliBoard helps institutions turn learning data into decisions that drive action. Trusted by colleges and universities worldwide, IntelliBoard connects LMS, SIS, and other critical systems to deliver dashboards and reports tailored for advisors, instructors, institutional leaders, and other key roles across the learning ecosystem. With tools for risk identification, compliance tracking, and learner support, IntelliBoard enables education and training organizations across higher education, K-12, corporate, and government sectors to strengthen accountability and improve outcomes that save time, support learners, and strengthen accountability.